

DAIRY INDUSTRY

One of Israel's major dairy companies called on Meptagon to assist in the building of a new, modern dairy in the south of the country. The project spanned one year and was intensive. The challenge was to construct the new dairy prior to closing the old dairy, thereby ensuring uninterrupted supply of product to the market.

Activities:

- Placing of equipment
- Production and installation of pedestals
- Hoisting of equipment
- Detailed engineering
- Piping and Mechanical activities
- Instrumentation and control

With a perfect safety record, our team managed to provide the client with the dairy on time. We assisted in the commissioning process and handed over the process suites with ZERO quality control issues. Due to our outstanding record, Meptagon's team has been contracted to provide maintenance services for a number of years after the conclusion of the project.
